September

Folklore for the Season

Heavy September rains bring drought.

September dries up ditches or breaks down bridges.

Married in September's golden glow, smooth and serene your life will go.

If the storms of September clear off warm, the storms of the following winter will be warm.

Fair on September 1st, fair for the month.

Note from the Library

-Book circulation is going well. Thanks to the wonderful readers who sign their books out/in and shelf them or leave them on the table for volunteers to shelf.

-If it is difficult for you to return your own books due to illness; please leave a message at Lina's office and a library volunteer will come to your door, pick up your book and return them.

-Overdue /missing books. Since January 2023 several books have been signed out and not returned for long periods of time. In order to get these books back in circulation for others to enjoy, a 'reminder' may be left in the 'mailbox' by your door.

Thanksgiving and Christmas bookings for the Multipurpose Room will be starting Sept. 1st . First come first served. $20 deposit and $60 room rental. See Lina at the office.

CALL for VOLUNTEERS

We are always looking for someone to help out. If you, or someone you know that loves doing arts and crafts and would like to lead a session or two a month we are looking for you. Supplies will be provided.

Or you want to help out in our library or lead an exercise class, we have a spot for you. Any questions please drop by Lina's office or call 204-380-4462

Please remember to do laundry when you are scheduled to do so. If no one is on the schedule, feel free to use the facility but not on other people's time.
Thank you!

AUGUST HAPPENINGS

From the Chaplains Desk:

"You were made for friendship with God."

A very familiar song that we often sing is "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" God does not just want us to know about him; he wants us to know him and to experience his friendship. I read about Jonathan Edwards who urges us to "Let it be our first love to enter into an everlasting friendship with Christ that never shall be broken" The gospel calls us to trust Jesus as our Savior, submit to him as our King, and value him as our Treasure. It also calls us to enjoy him as our friend. But do you view him this way? What does it mean for him to be our truest friend, and how do we experience his friendship?

Jesus Gladly Calls Us Friends: Jesus gathered his disciples one last time, on the night before his death, to prepare them for the next day and beyond. In the midst of this sacred evening he said, "No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing; but I have called you friends, for all that I have heard from my Father I have made known to you" John 15:15. To be called Jesus's servant is an immeasurable privilege. Yet Jesus confers a greater honor. He brings us even closer. He calls us friends.

"You were made for friendship with God."

Two pieces of evidence show his sincerity. First, he opened his heart with transparency. While a master doesn't tell his servant what he's doing, Jesus revealed his Father's will to us. And he would send his Spirit to ensure that all future disciples would hear these words John 14:26; 16:12-15. Second, the cross proves his friendship. He said, "Greater love has no one than this, that someone lay down his life for his friends" John 15:13. He wanted his disciples to see the cross and think: I understand now: He substituted himself for me under God's wrath, and he did it because he views me as his treasured friend. He wants us to view the cross as an affection-filled sacrifice for friends. Friendship is in the deepest heart of Christ and it's at the very center of the gospel.

He Is Not only Our King or only Our Friend. Yet for some, friendship with Jesus seems to diminish his glory. I've often heard the sentiment, "Jesus is not our friend; he's our King." But we don't have to choose, because both are true, Jesus is our exalted king and he is our truest friend. This doesn't minimize his glory; it magnifies it, because it displays the immeasurable riches of his grace. Ephesians 1: 6,7. Only grace explains the sovereign King welcoming sinners as his friends.

But does relating to Jesus as a friend diminish his authority in our lives? Not at all, because when he calls us friends, he still remains our King. He said, "You are my friends if you do what I command you" John 15:14. Jesus tells us to obey him; we never tell him to obey us. And our obedience doesn't earn, but rather, proves, our friendship with him.

John Hildebrand, Chaplain
