CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

It's that time of the year again – Thanksgiving.

How quickly 'summer' has ended, and 'fall' is upon us.

And with the coming of 'fall' we are reminded that harvest time is upon us.

Going down the highway I see many of the field crops have already been taken off.

I am sure those farmers are glad and now trying to cultivate the fields before the fall rain begins.

Those of us that have gardens are also seeing the completion of our garden crops.

Just a few days ago I ended the tomato crop by picking off the last of the tomatoes, whether ripe or still green. At least I don't need to cover and uncover the tomatoes due to frost.

The carrots and potatoes can wait a while, but soon enough those will also need to be dug out.

Gardens in the Bible symbolize creation, spiritual growth, divine encounters, and hope, with key examples including Eden, Gethsemane, and the garden of Joseph of Arimathea.

The first and most famous garden, Eden, was planted by God as a paradise for Adam and Eve, filled with fruit trees, shade, and harmony with creation (Genesis 2:8-9).

It represents the ideal relationship between humanity and God, where peace, provision, and fellowship were perfect. Eden also contained the tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, highlighting obedience and the consequences of sin (Genesis 2:9; 3:6).

In the New Testament, the Garden of Gethsemane is where Jesus prayed before His arrest, demonstrating submission, spiritual struggle, and reliance on God's will (Matthew 26:36).

This garden symbolizes deep prayer, surrender, and the human experience of facing trials while seeking divine guidance.

The Garden of Joseph of Arimathea, near the tomb where Jesus was laid after crucifixion, represents hope, resurrection, and eternal life (John 19:41).

It is a place of new beginnings and points to the promise of salvation through Christ.

Thanksgiving is a time where we focus on the blessings of God we received from the fruit of our harvest. It is also a time appropriate to the celebration of the gardens of the Bible where we are reminded that Biblical gardens illustrate the balance of labor and rest, the consequences of disobedience, and the blessings of divine care. They encourage reflection, prayer, and spiritual growth, showing that just as gardens require tending, so too does the human soul flourish under God's guidance.

In summary, gardens in the Bible are both literal and symbolic spaces where creation, human responsibility, divine encounters, and spiritual truths intersect, offering lessons on obedience, hope, and the nurturing of faith.
